

SDWC Analysis -

Q1) Define weakness & strength in one sentence?

Strength -

It is something in which we are really good at & irrespective of what challenges we face in that field we will be able to handle it easily.

Weakness -

Something we are not really good at, it is something we make barely an improvement even though we try hard at it.

Q2) What is your greatest strength?

That I am remain calm during tense conditions.

Q3) What is your greatest weakness?

I overthink a little & ~~try~~ try to achieve perfection in projects but not in studies.

Q4) What do people criticize about you more?

→ That I avoid hangouts & interactions

→ I usually don't pick up call at the first ring.

Q6) What criticism have you faced from?

Parents - I should take part in events more.

Siblings - I am little stubborn.

Friends - I avoid hangouts with them.

Relatives - I am too shy & do not open up easily.

Q7) How do you handle failure?

When faced with such a situation, I isolate myself from everyone for a short period.

Q8) How do you handle success?

I usually treat myself with some of my favourite food & a movie.

Q9) How do you view yourself & why?

•) Calm •) Easy to get along •) Patient

•) open to new learning

During panic situations, I don't jump to conclusions. ~~but~~ Usually I guide me & my colleagues through a problem if faced with any.

Q10) Who do you compare yourself to & why?

A very common answer but I compare myself to no one, I just like to learn as many things as possible & from whomever.

Q12) What motivates you?

The sacrifice my parents have made & provided me with such a quality education. I should also try my best to return them early.

Q13) How will your strength help in achieving your goal?

Being a calm, patient, curious to learn and also dominating as a leader. is much needed in cybersecurity because in age of rapid advancement in technology every year to keep up one should keep learning always.

Q14) What have you achieved on basis of your strength so far?

This has helped me to learn beyond scope of my course like all about internet, the computer architecture, some philosophy, some poetry & many more. This helps in interacting with people.